BACKGROUND

The Grindell's Hut Artist Residency program was established more than 15 years ago by the then Regional Development Board located in Port Augusta.

The vision for Grindell's Hut was to provide an environment of extraordinary natural beauty with historic significance for artists to pursue their practice while immersed in an outback environment.

LOCATION

Grindell's Hut is located in the heart of the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges National Park on a hillside with spectacular views over the valleys and foothills of the Illinawortina Pound and the Blue Range.

The McLachlan Pastoral Company built the hut in the 1950's as a Boundary Rider's Hut and Outstation for the Balcanoona Pastoral Lease. The original hut built in the late 1800s by Grindell still stands just behind the newer hut.

HISTORY

The Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges, reputable for its mountains, native flora and fauna, Aboriginal and colonial heritage, is situated at the Northern end of the Flinders Ranges. The Park protects significant Aboriginal and European heritage sites.

The first area of the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges National Park was proclaimed in 1970, covering an initial 15,550 hectares. Following the purchase of the Balcanoona Pastoral Station Lease, the 82,000 hectare property was added to the park in 1982. The park now covers 128,228 hectares of land.

The traditional owners of the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges National Park are the Adnyamathanha people who continue to have strong ties with their country, ancestors, law and culture. Traditional owners co-manage the Park with the South Australian Government through the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges National Park Co-Management Board.

The Adnyamathanha name Vulkathunha was officially assigned to the Park in May 2003 and the word literally means 'old lady' and reflects a significant Adnyamathanha story connected with this country. The more recent history of the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges has included mining, smelting and pastoralism.

Illinawortina Pound, adjacent to Grindell's Hut, is in the Vulkathunha-Gammon Ranges and can be accessed via Copley (6km north of Leigh Creek). It is approximately 365 kilometres North of Port Augusta with the last 100km on unsealed roads with many rough creek crossings.

HOW TO GET THERE

A 4WD vehicle is required as the Hut is in a remote location and roads may be closed or have restricted access.

The hut is located on Wortupa Loop Road, 26 km from the Park Headquarters at Balcanoona. The access road is not recommended for 2WD vehicles due to rocky sections, steep slopes and creek crossings. From Balcanoona, follow the Arkaroola Road for approximately 10km. Turn left at the sign posted intersection and follow the road through to Grindell's Hut.

ELIGIBILITY

- All Australian permanent residents over the age of 18 are eligible to apply
- Residents of regional South Australia are encouraged to apply
